Penn Engineering Values Statement

In conjunction with the fundamental tenets of Penn Compact 2020, Inclusion, Innovation and Impact, the Penn Engineering Community affirms the following shared values:

We are a community of scholarship, creativity and curiosity.
We value the pursuit of knowledge and professional development. Through intellectual exploration, critical thinking and the combination of ideas, we seek to gain an understanding of and develop solutions for real-world problems and to improve the human condition.

We are a community of integrity and character.
We value what is honorable and honest. We hold ourselves morally and ethically accountable and maintain an open and frank dialogue that reflects a supportive and welcoming environment.

We are an inclusive community of diverse people and perspectives.
We value different viewpoints and styles of thinking. Through difference, we advance more creative and innovative solutions, as well as attract and support a diverse community that offers an enriching and accessible environment where all belong.
